

Reading: an activity club web page

An information page helps a reader choose an activity. Read this fictional club page, then check who can join, when the club meets and what members need. Use headings as well as complete sentences.

Learning goals

- Scan a notice for a specific detail
- Day, place and joining conditions
- Check a condition before deciding who can join

1. How do I find practical information on a club web page?

Scan for the day, time, place, age range and things to bring. Check each answer against the notice. The sample club meets on Saturday from ten to eleven at the school playground, welcomes beginners aged eleven to thirteen, and asks visitors to bring water and a hat.

Scan for days, times, places and conditions.

2. Scan a notice for a specific detail

Scan means move your eyes through a text to find one detail, such as a day or a number. Can may describe an ability or permission. You can join here tells the reader who is allowed to take part; I can swim describes a skill.

Match each question to its key information. When asks for time, where asks for a place, and what asks for an activity or object. Do not infer that a beginner must already be an expert. A notice that welcomes beginners allows people who are still learning.

3. Day, place and joining conditions

Question	Scan for	Text evidence
When?	Day and time	Saturday, 10:00-11:00
Where?	Meeting place	school playground
Who?	Joining condition	beginners aged 11-13

4. Read the fictional Saturday club page

Can can express ability or permission.

Read and explain this example

SATURDAY SKILLS CLUB - Meet at the school playground from ten to eleven on Saturday. Beginners aged eleven to thirteen can join. You can ride a bike or fly a kite. Bring water and a hat. Bikes and kites are available at the club. Ask Ms Amrani before your first visit. The club does not meet on rainy days.

5. Check a condition before deciding who can join

A notice can describe both an activity and the conditions for taking part. You can ride a bike names an available activity; beginners can join describes who is welcome. Do not confuse the two. A twelve-year-old beginner fits this notice's age range even if they are still learning. The text also says equipment is available, so it does not support a claim that every visitor must buy a bicycle before joining.

Use the notice rather than assumptions to answer.

Check this

This is an invented reading text, not a real club announcement. Available means that an item can be used; the text does not say you must buy a bike.

Put the idea into practice

1. Find the heading and identify what the page is advertising.
2. Look for the exact detail requested by each question.
3. Read a condition together with its exception, such as the note about rainy days.

Remember

- Scan for days, times, places and conditions.
- Can can express ability or permission.
- Use the notice rather than assumptions to answer.

Practice - Try before checking

Answer in your notebook. Use evidence from the examples and check your sentences.

Exercise 1. Find the details

Where does the club meet? How long is the session?

Exercise 2. Check a condition

Can a twelve-year-old beginner join? Must they bring a bike?

Exercise 3. Apply the text

It is raining on Saturday. Does the club meet? Support your answer.

Exercise 4. Apply two conditions together

A twelve-year-old beginner wants to visit at ten on a rainy Saturday. Does the notice support going ahead?

Explained answers

Exercise 1. Find the details

It meets at the school playground. The session lasts one hour, from ten to eleven.

Exercise 2. Check a condition

Yes, a twelve-year-old beginner fits the age range. The notice says bikes are available; it does not require bringing one.

Exercise 3. Apply the text

No. The notice says the club does not meet on rainy days.

Exercise 4. Apply two conditions together

The age and beginner conditions fit, but the club does not meet on rainy days. All relevant conditions must be checked, not just the age range.

Frequently asked questions

How do I find practical information on a club web page?

Scan for the day, time, place, age range and things to bring. Check each answer against the notice. The sample club meets on Saturday from ten to eleven at the school playground, welcomes beginners aged eleven to thirteen, and asks visitors to bring water and a hat.

Is this a real club that I can attend?

No. It is an original fictional information page for reading practice. Use it to learn how to find practical details, not as a real event announcement.

What is the difference between scanning and guessing?

Scanning locates evidence in the text. Guessing adds information that the text may never give.
